April 2018

From The President Julie McDonell

Once again it's time for the Lancaster quilt shows! I love wandering through the huge variety of wonderful quilts, although every now and again, there's a bizarre exhibit that makes me scratch my head. Anyone remember the quilts with soda can pull tabs, or bread bag plastic clips? If I run across those kinds of "quilts", I just chalk it up to humor for the day and then appreciate the gorgeous "normal" quilts all the more.

However, I've come to realize that I should always prepare myself for the quilt show vendors. Shortly before I leave, I need to clean and/or organize my quilting space. That tends to result in remarks such as: "Nope, don't want any more blue fabric! Where did all that orange thread come from? Got plenty of seam rippers! WHY in the world did I buy this?" My end game is to hopefully end up with "Oh, if I can find ... I can complete this project."

By shopping for two or three specific items or fabrics, I apparently distract myself from being tempted willy-nilly by all the wonderful things I see. (Well, make that MOST of the things - not all.) Then I end up feeling like I've accomplished something when I track down what I "need", AND I seem to spend more time enjoying the quilts.

I guess my distraction technique is similar to setting my watch a few minutes fast. Even though I know the "real" time, it somehow seems to help keep me on track. I can understand if you can't relate to this. You're probably like the wise five-year-old who once told me "You're lyin' to yourself Aunt Julie!" I say, whatever works for you!

"I will not buy any more fabric until I use my fabric stash at home," I said.

Then I laughed and laughed.

There are several project deadlines for April, so please remember to bring these items or contact me to arrange delivery.

The collection of pillowcases for Ryan's Case for Smiles will wrap up at the April meeting. Hand in any you've made on your own or any made at the February meeting that you took home to launder. Thanks so much for truly bringing smiles to hospitalized kids. I look forward to giving you the final count next month.

The April meeting is the last call for any small baby or child quilts you may have made to send to a church in San Juan, Puerto Rico. We'll be sending them out shortly after the meeting.

I've made several Classic Elements blocks for the veteran's quilt project. I hope you have too. Bring them to the April meeting so that we can start assembling a quilt.

There was a March 8 email to the Guild about a collection of sewing notions for a woman in Ghana (threads, good scissors, Vogue patterns, brightly colored zippers). Those should be delivered to Lorraine Bujnowski at the April meeting.

Looking forward, Camp Erin quilts (about 50 x 70 inches), for kids attending a bereavement camp this summer, will be collected at the May meeting. Lorraine Bujnowski will bring Project Linus labels to the meeting. Please take one to sew onto the back of your Camp Erin Quilt.

Programs and Workshops

Julie Davidovich and Donna Gasser

COMING Tuesday, April 3, 2018 - 7pm at Holy Spirit guest speaker Jessica Skultety from the Quilty Habit presents Modern Quilting - What's All the Hubbub?

Jessica will treat us to a trunk show of modern/modern traditional quilts. She'll explore many elements of modern quilting (with her take on each one) and discuss ways to modernize any quilt. Plus, we'll aim to define "modern" on our own terms by the end of the 1 hour lecture including Q&A.

COMING Tuesday, May 1, 2018 - 7 pm at Holy Spirit - member Michele McLaughlin presents Designs STILL Worth Doing: A Celebration of Ruby Short McKim

This trunk show focuses on Ruby Short McKim, one of the most innovative and diverse quilt designers of the 20th century. Not only will the program feature vintage quilts she designed but examples will also be provided on how her patterns can be incorporated in to 21st century projects. Over 30 pieces are featured in the trunk show.

Look for the story board that Julie McDonnell has graciously agreed to bring to the meeting on my behalf. It illustrates IDEAS that you might find inspiring regarding using fabric panels. (I now see panels everywhere!) Also, if you have been rooting through your stash and found panels to share with others, bring them along to give away. I hope this challenge will be FUN for you. A new story board will be coming each month. ENJOY!!
